March 17, 2026 | Ford Field - Detroit, MI

Battle Beast vs. Unfortunate Events

The camera fades in from the event open to the ring inside Ford Field, where the crowd remains loud following the explosive introduction to Survival of the Fittest 2026. The ring sits illuminated under bright white lights while the giant LED boards surrounding the stadium display the AWS logo.

Inside the ring stands the poised ring announcer.

A camera zooms in as Song Teng raises a microphone.

Song Teng stands centered on the canvas, dressed in a sharp black suit with crimson trim, holding the microphone confidently while the crowd settles slightly in anticipation.

Song Teng:

"Ladies and gentlemen... the following contest is scheduled for one fall... and is our Survival of the Fittest DARK MATCH TAG TEAM BOUT!"

The crowd gives a respectful pop.

Entrance - The Unfortunate Events

Suddenly whimsical carnival-style music plays through the arena speakers.

The crowd responds with amused cheers as the video board displays a colorful animated graphic reading:

THE UNFORTUNATE EVENTS

Two cartoonish figures slip and tumble across the screen.

Song Teng:

"Introducing first... at a combined weight of four hundred and thirty pounds... the team of OOPSY and UPSY DAISY... THE UNFORTUNATE EVENTS!"

The curtain parts.

Oopsy bursts out first, dramatically tripping forward on the stage ramp before catching themselves at the last second. The fans laugh and cheer.

Survival of the Fittest: 2026

Behind them, Upsy Daisy steps out enthusiastically waving to the crowd, only to slip on the ramp and slide halfway down toward the ring.

The duo lean into their chaotic gimmick:

Oopsy nearly falls off the ramp while posing.

Upsy Daisy spins and accidentally bumps into the barricade.

Both of them shrug and laugh with the crowd.

They slap hands with fans while heading to the ring.

Oopsy climbs the apron and pretends to trip through the ropes, rolling dramatically onto the canvas.

Upsy Daisy follows with a clumsy somersault into the ring.

They pose together.

The crowd gives a warm reaction.

Entrance - Battle Beasts

The arena suddenly goes dark.

A deep war drum begins pounding through the speakers.

The crowd noise shifts from playful to intense.

The LED screens flash images of war-torn landscapes and burning forests.

Song Teng:

"And their opponents..."

Heavy industrial music erupts.

Song Teng:

A massive roar rises from the crowd.

First emerges DEADMARSH, a towering brute of a man moving slowly through smoke, his presence monstrous and intimidating.

Behind him bursts Balístico, explosive and intense, slapping his chest while shouting toward the crowd.

The two men stand at the top of the stage for a moment.

Then they storm toward the ring like predators.

Oopsy and Upsy Daisy immediately look nervous.

Balístico slides into the ring while DEADMARSH steps over the ropes with terrifying ease.

The referee quickly signals for the bell.

Asylum Wrestling Society presents Survival of the Fittest 2026

Live from Ford Field - Detroit, Michigan

The broadcast begins in darkness.

A faint roar of a massive crowd echoes in the background, growing louder with each passing second. The distant hum of electricity crackles through the speakers.

Then--

Survival of the Fittest: 2026

BOOM!

A wall of silver pyro erupts across the stage.

Thousands of sparks rain from the towering stage structure as the camera bursts into life, revealing the cavernous interior of Ford Field completely packed wall-to-wall with fans. The stadium lights pulse gold across the massive stage as eight giant LED screens flash the event logo:

SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST 2026

The opening guitar riff of "Asylum" by Disturbed explodes through the arena sound system.

The camera sweeps across the crowd.

Fans are on their feet, waving signs, chanting, and screaming as gold lighting sweeps over the audience like a spotlight across a battlefield.

The broadcast cuts to a wide aerial shot of the arena.

Nearly seventy thousand fans pack the stadium, the ring glowing brightly in the center like the eye of a hurricane.

More pyro explodes across the stage as the music crescendos.

CAMERA PAN -- CROWD SHOTS

A young fan holds up a sign reading:

"DETROIT HAS GONE ASYLUM!"

Another fan holds a sign:

"DRAKE NYGMA FEARS NO ONE!"

A group of fans in the front row chant loudly:

"AWS! AWS! AWS!"

The camera cuts to the ring.

Standing proudly at the center, dressed in a perfectly tailored black suit with a crimson tie, is the distinguished ring announcer Song Teng, microphone in hand, patiently waiting for the night's action to begin.

Survival of the Fittest: 2026

The camera circles the ring once before cutting to the broadcast table at ringside.

Three commentators sit behind the desk with headsets on as the music continues playing beneath the broadcast.

Salmia "Mia" Russo leans forward toward the camera with an excited smile.

Mia Russo:

"Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the biggest battlefield in professional wrestling tonight! We are coming to you LIVE from a sold-out Ford Field in Detroit, Michigan for one of the most dangerous nights of the entire year... this is Asylum Wrestling Society's Survival of the Fittest 2026!"

The crowd roars loudly in the background.

Ginnifer "Gidget" Stephenson adjusts her headset as the camera cuts to her.

Gidget Stephenson:

"You can feel the electricity in this building tonight, Mia! Detroit is absolutely rabid and honestly... who can blame them? Survival of the Fittest is where careers are made, reputations are destroyed, and champions prove they deserve to sit on the throne of Asylum Wrestling Society!"

The camera briefly cuts back to a sweeping shot of the crowd as the opening chorus of Asylum continues playing.

Daniel Greene III leans into his microphone, composed but clearly energized.

Daniel Greene III:

"And if the chaos we saw on Tuesday Night Ward this week was any indication... tonight is going to be nothing short of absolute war."

The screen briefly shows highlight flashes from the previous AWS Tuesday Night Ward.

Quick flashes include:

- A brutal brawl spilling into the crowd
- A champion standing tall over a fallen challenger
- Security trying--and failing--to separate two rival competitors

The camera returns to the commentary desk.

Survival of the Fittest: 2026

Mia Russo:

"Last Tuesday Night Ward left the entire AWS locker room in absolute turmoil. Alliances shattered, grudges exploded, and multiple championship pictures were thrown completely into chaos."

Gidget Stephenson:

"And let's not forget the shocking moment when tempers finally boiled over between competitors who had been circling each other for weeks. Detroit may be hosting Survival of the Fittest tonight, but after Ward... it feels like the whole roster is ready to tear each other apart."

Daniel Greene III:

"That's the thing about this event. You don't just wrestle here... you endure it. Tonight's competitors will step into an environment designed to break them physically, mentally, and emotionally."

The music swells again in the background as the camera cuts to another massive wide shot of the stadium.

Fans are still on their feet.

Chants ripple through the arena.

"AWS! AWS! AWS!"

The camera slowly zooms toward the ring once again where Song Teng stands patiently, looking toward the stage.

Back at the broadcast desk--

Mia Russo:

"Championships will be defended. Rivalries will explode. And somewhere before this night is over... someone will prove they truly are the strongest survivor in all of Asylum Wrestling Society."

Gidget Stephenson:

"And with seventy thousand fans here in Detroit and millions watching around the world... there is no bigger stage to do it."

Daniel Greene III:

"So buckle up, because if you thought Tuesday Night Ward was intense... you haven't seen anything yet."

The camera cuts one last time to a massive stadium shot.

Pyro erupts again across the stage.

The crowd explodes.

Survival of the Fittest: 2026

Mia Russo (voice rising over the crowd):

"Ladies and gentlemen... welcome to SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST 2026!"

The music fades as the broadcast transitions toward the first official announcement.

The camera zooms in on the ring.

Song Teng lifts the microphone.

The show is officially underway.

Segment

? The camera flickers on backstage. The concrete hallway hums with arena noise. Interviewer Laura Andersen stands with a microphone as a tall, red-haired man in a dark green coat and chain--"The King of Ireland" Declan McGinnis--looms beside her, pacing with agitation.

Laura Andersen:

Declan McGinnis, thank you for joining me. Tonight on Tuesday Night Ward, you once again weren't scheduled for a match. Many fans are wondering--what exactly is going on between you and AWS management?

Declan McGinnis:

McGinnis scoffs, running a hand through his beard, thick Irish accent rolling through every word.

Ahh now listen here, Laura... I've been nothin' but disrespected since the day I walked through these doors. gestures around the hallway They call me The King of Ireland, but around here they treat me like some court jester they can wheel out whenever it suits 'em.

One week I'm fightin', next week I'm sittin' in the back watchin' lads who couldn't lace me boots get their moment. That's not how you treat a king, now is it?

leans toward the camera

I didn't come all this way across the Atlantic to warm benches and wait for management to feel like givin' me a match.

Survival of the Fittest: 2026

Footsteps approach. A tall powerhouse with a sleeveless denim vest--Cage Eames--steps into frame, cracking his neck. His voice carries a thick Louisiana drawl.

Cage Eames:

Now hold on there, partner... Declan ain't wrong.

nods slowly

We been bustin' skulls every time they actually let us in that ring. And I been thinkin', brother... it's about time our path crosses with somethin' shiny.

looks straight into the camera

Gold.

The AWS World Tag Team Championships.

'Cause here's the deal, Laura... either management puts McGinnis and Eames on that list for tag team gold... or the way I see it-- shrugs

--this team might have to split up and go huntin' on our own.

McGinnis turns to him, eyes lighting up with a grin.

Declan McGinnis:

claps Eames hard on the shoulder

Ahhh, old friend... now you're talk, fella.

Tag team gold... that's the crown we oughta be wearin'.

He steps forward, voice rising.

So listen close, AWS management--

You give The King of Ireland and the Bayou Brawler a shot at those titles... or you'll be explainin' to the whole world why the most dangerous team in this company was kept waitin' in the shadows.

McGinnis smirks.

And trust me, Laura...

Survival of the Fittest: 2026

Kings don't wait forever.

He and Eames walk off down the corridor together as the camera fades out. ??

Kurokumo versus Kermal Yilmiz

Both Kurokumo and Kemal Yilmaz are waiting in their respective corners as the cage slowly comes down from above. Kemal is stretching and shadow boxing, preparing his strikes, while Kurokumo remains eerily still.

The cage drops with a metallic clank and the ref signals to ring the bell. Kurokumo still remains motionless, as if she's waiting to lure Yilmaz into the first move. Kemal tests the waters with a kick, but Kurokumo quickly dodges it. He goes for a roundhouse kick but Kurokumo drops low and crawls to the center of the ring.

Survival of the Fittest: 2026

"This will be a slow paced, methodical war. Both competitors are used to being the hunter - tonight, one of them has to end up as the prey."

Yilmaz slowly approaches Kurokumo, who suddenly charges forward and drops Kemal with a takedown. She rolls him on his belly and crawls on his back, trying to grab his arms and twist it. Yilmaz tries to fight back, but can't quite escape Kurokumo's clutches. He powers up to his feet and charges backwards, slamming Kurokumo into the cage wall. He does it a few more times until Kurokumo lets go and drops to the floor.

Yilmaz wastes no time trying to step up the tempo. He drags Kurokumo up to her feet, slams her face first into the cage wall this time, then connects with a German Suplex. He hooks both legs for cover.

ONE!

TWO!

Kurokumo kicks out right at two.

Kemal locks in an Inverted STF immediately. The ref checks. Kurokumo's fingers drag along the mat rhythmically. Not tapping. Just feeling the ground beneath her. Patient. She powers through, drags herself to the ropes and with a quick push forward slams Yilmaz's head into the cage. A few more times is enough for Kemal to release the hold. He checks his forehead with his hand and sees blood on it. The quick loss of focus on his opponent plays right into Kurokumo's cards as she grabs Kemal by the back of his head and drives him through the ropes into the cage. She tangles him up in the ropes and drags his face across the steel.

"Both are trying to tear the other apart. The cage is a weapon to them."

Kurokumo steps back and hits a big dropkick to the back of Kemal's head. He bounces off the cage wall and falls through the ropes to the canvas. Kurokumo goes for the cover.

ONE!

TWO!

Kemal powers out.

Kurokumo drags Yilmaz up. Koharu grabs the cage wall, fingers through the chains, and gets her face close to it. He nods at Kurokumo in approval of her brutal work. Yilmaz, standing in front of Kurokumo, suddenly lands a big back elbow that staggers his opponent, then charges forward and hits a low dropkick to the side of the cage that drops Koharu.

"Oh that will anger Kurokumo!"

Yilmaz drags himself up using the ropes. The angered Kurokumo loses her usual focus and charges forward, but Yilmaz sidesteps and she crashes into the cage as well. Kemal hits a Dragon Suplex into a bridging pin.

Survival of the Fittest: 2026

ONE!

TWO!

Kurokumo kicks out.

Yilmaz wipes the blood off his face and drags his opponent up. He goes to throw Kurokumo against the cage as well, but she manages to slow down before the possible impact, dropping to the floor. She slides under the bottom rope before coming back to hit with a Low Angle Lariat.

"Trapdoor Lariat! Kurokumo goes for cover!"

ONE!

TWO!

Yilmaz kicks out.

Kurokumo quickly glances outside where Koharu drags herself up. Ensured by her closest person being okay, she goes to stomp on Kemal's limbs, trying to pick the Turkish fighter apart. Yilmaz winces and rolls on his belly. Kurokumo patiently waits, lets the wounded fighter get to his feet, then goes for a takedown into a Ragdoll Throw, again into the cage. She follows the Rootsnare Toss with a cover.

ONE!

TWO!

TH- Kickout by Kemal.

Survival of the Fittest: 2026

Kurokumo grabs The Turkish Acid by his arm, but Yilmaz catches her off guard by dragging her down into a Small Package roll-up.

ONE!

TWO!

TH- Kickout by Kurokumo.

"Yilmaz is trying to steal the win."

The Burrowed God crawls away from her competitor. Yilmaz gets up to his feet and charges forward again, but is met with a knee to the gut. Kurokumo grabs him in a reverse headlock and lifts him, going for the Burrow Breaker. Kemal floats over though and lands on his feet. He lands a big forearm smash into the back of Kurokumo's head, then turns her around and grabs her in a Double Underhook. He lifts her and drops her with a Brainbuster.

"That's the Istanbul Acid Driver! But he doesn't go for the cover!"

Yilmaz goes to climb the cage wall, looking to win by escaping the cage. Kurokumo looks stunned, but suddenly sits up to the shock of the crowd and crawls right behind Kemal like a spider. They both meet at the top of the cage, sitting on the ledge and exchanging elbow strikes.

"Incredibly dangerous positions for both competitors who are willing to do anything to get that shot at the Television Championship!"

They exchange shot after shot when suddenly Yilmaz blocks one, quickly grabs Kurokumo's head and starts slamming it repeatedly into the steel structure they're sitting on.

"He's trying to rip the spider's head off! That's brutal!"

When he thinks he's brutalized his opponent enough, he locks in the double underhook again and hits a massive Brainbuster right into the center of the ring.

Survival of the Fittest: 2026

"Super Istanbul Acid Driver!"

The crowd goes "Holy shit! Holy shit" as both competitors lie almost motionless in the center of the canvas. Yilmaz just barely drags himself over Kurokumo and hooks both legs.

ONE!

TWO!

THREE!

"Wasteland" hits as Yilmaz rolls off Kurokumo. He wipes the blood off of his face as the cage starts rising up. He looks up at the steel structure, and then back at Kurokumo, knowing he just survived a war to claim the contendership.
